Local developers and real estate investors are still leery of the prospect of allowing gaming operations in the Evergreen State. Despite expanding gaming operations in neighboring counties and a landmark federal decision in their favor, the state's handful of gaming operations have been struggling to find enough wealthy and affluent people to either buy or lease properties and investment opportunities. With state coffers still largely dependent on a revenue stream from the lottery, it's no wonder that many other states are catching up. Now some of the leaders of the state's largest counties are coming together to prod the state's casinos and lottery to do more. The state's top four executives will be participating in a meeting March 8 at the State Capitol to try and woo more investors and business operators to the state's gaming operations. "The ball has been in the court of the state lottery for so long that it has to be turned over to the private sector," said Todd Bullock, chairman of the Spokane County Commission. "This is the first opportunity that the state lottery

In addition, the growth curve of the Δ*gtmA* mutant grown in L-PGA medium was the same as that of the Δ*gtmA* mutant (data not shown). As shown in Supplementary Fig. S5(ref-type="media"), strains Δ*gtmA* or Δ*gtmA* gtA* showed a significant growth defect compared to wild-type strain when grown on 0.25% (v/v) trehalose in L-PGA medium. In addition, the viability of strains was significantly decreased after a 30-min treatment with 0.25% (v/v) trehalose (Supplementary Fig. S5(ref-type="media")). These results suggested that GtmA may protect bacterial cells from damage caused by trehalose. Conclusion [#Sec14] ===== In this study, we identified a previously unrecognized PG amidase (GtmA) from L. lactis. GtmA was involved in cell motility and host-attachment by cleaving O-4-dimethylallyl residues of both PG and cell wall (lipoteichoic acid)[@CR2][@CR14]. Two domains in GtmA were responsible for recognition of different substrates. The amino acid residues responsible for substrate recognition were located in the first domain, but the second domain had weak activity. The activity of the first domain was independent of the second domain. Since GtmA recognizes and cleaves only O-4-dimethylallyl-modified substrates, the enzymes containing GtmA may constitute a subfamily of NlpC/P 3da54e8ca3
